Olivia Pffaf

Medical Receptionist

Olivia was born and raised in Portland, moving from Oregon to Maine when she was five. Although she only lived on the west coast for her early childhood, she declares with conviction that the east coast is far superior. Having fallen in love with Maine – the four seasons, beaches, forests, and most of all, the people, she hopes to make it her long-term home.

Having attended a year of college, she discovered that living often requires a method by which to acquire money, and so she did what many must do – and got a job. Olivia feels very lucky to work at Alliance PT. She enjoys the busyness and the paperwork because she knows that every phone call and every piece of paperwork completed is another step for a patient on the road to recovery.

Olivia loves to spend time with neighborhood friends and her seven siblings discussing current events while playing board games, basketball, or music. She has been blessed with a little forest behind her house in the suburbs and when it's too cold for mosquitoes and poison ivy, you may find her shooting a bow in the backwoods. Squeezing runs into her schedule can be challenging, but well worth it so she can be in shape to chase after her little brothers.
